Hazard Analysis & Critical Control Points, or HACCP

HACCP is a systematic preventive approach to food safety from biological, chemical and physical hazards in food production and handling processes. HACCP is a legal requirement for food businesses, but will also benefit your business by greatly reducing the risk of illness due to cross-contamination.

The simple HACCP colour coding system described below covers different areas of the business and allows cleaning products to be easily identified and differentiated visually, taking the fuss out of food safety management.

From sanitary appliances & washroom floors to general food & bar use, there's a HACCP colour coded broom for any application. All of our colour coded broom heads can be cleaned using an autoclave for peace of mind and to fulfill your regulatory requirements.
